THE LOGAN RECEPTION.

A THOUSAND PEOPLE GREET THE GENERAL AND HIS WIFE.

An Informal but Very Pleasant and Successful Affair at the Grand Pacific—Addresses of Welcome and Reminiscences—Some of the Guests Who Were Present Last Night—The G. A. R.

"Comrade, I'm so glad—oh, and I'm glad to meet you also! I have to rush for you and for our elected President of the United States before I die." Thus a venerable citizen at the Logan reception last evening. And the fine, old soldier: "I shook you heartily. I was glad to see you and I'm glad to see you again. Give my kindest regards to Mrs. Logan." In similar and equivalent phrases did the Logan host of the occasion modestly acknowledge the Republican good wishes as the long procession filed past.

The reception was tendered by prominent citizens to Gen. and Mrs. Logan at the Grand Pacific, and, being mostly informal, was attended by a multitude of the representative citizens of all creeds and classes. For nearly two hours the General's right arm was kept continuously in motion during hearty hand with the passing throng, and Mrs. Logan had an equal amount of additional and pleasant exercise. If each of them did not have a total with the evening it is not the fault of their friendly friends.

The reception was held in the main parlors—two spacious rooms in the front part of the hotel, to a point near the centre was a large bay of French plate-glass, and within this bay, on the south, Gen. Logan, dressed in regular full dress uniform, and on the north Mrs. Logan, dressed in elegant black silk, with diamond ornaments, received the guests, assisted by Gen. Logan's staff, the officers of the Grand Army of the Republic, and a number of ladies. The latter were all dressed in full evening costume, and their appearance added much to the brilliancy of the occasion. Gen. Logan's staff was composed of Gen. Charles Fitzsimmons, Col. Frank Reynolds, Col. Frank Burke, Col. Frank Wheaton, Col. Frank Scott, Col. Frank Hecker, Col. Frank Hall, Col. Frank Bond, Col. Frank Hamilton, Col. Frank Hoffman, Col. Frank Hunter, Col. Frank Hoyt, Col. Frank Hall, Col. Frank Hall, Col. Frank Hall

PUBLIC OPINION.

THE REVISION OF THE LAWS.

Gen. Logan's remarks yesterday in Chicago may mark the exercise of a public exception in the evening. The attendance was large and truly representative of the Republican party. It was by no means the rally of henchmen whom their chief had a gathering of veritable Republicans to welcome home the distinguished Senator, who is likely ere-titled to all the honor bestowed upon him. He might well be proud of the occasion, especially as it was a free expression of public sentiment. If 6 lucky men in the light of a great transcription it was entirely a hearty testimonial to the recorded ability and complexity as a public servant.

Taken in connection with the Presidential interviews published in THE TRIBUNE of a few days ago this daughter was an assurance that if Gen. Logan wants to be nominated for President in 1900 he can have a solid delegation from Illinois, and that without a struggle. Nothing short of an insurrection attempt on the part of that State to choose the presidential delegates could raise any opposition or serve him any trouble. It would be a silly affectation to pretend that the reception was not largely designed as a manifesto to that effect.

It is the thought of some of the gentlemen who were specially conspicuous in the reception that any such sentiment was resented. There should have been no fight made against him in 1900. He was as much entitled to the support of Illinois then as now. THE TRIBUNE distributed then, as it would now on favorable, the attempt to offset Gen. Logan by arraying a part of his own State delegation against him. And it is not inappropriate to recall the fact that the opposition came from the personal associates of Mr. Arthur's confidence, and was urged on by the active head of the party. Fortunately for Gen. Logan, he still lives an abstemious, with his custom-house record, to overwhelm opposition in 1900 with the cry of "anything to beat Logan." It is not improbable that the associate of that faction should take time by the forelock in this matter. That have the most reason for doing so that the fighters in the rear-ranks may not be acting for company, lost on the battle begins then, being a little keen, he would dash for the rear in advance.

Gen. Logan has unquestionable himself upon the undoubted fact that the Republicans of Illinois are disinterestedly a unit in his support, but he would be mad to rest on the oars for the convenience of the next seventy. There are no doubt a good many Republicans throughout the country who are heartily disposed toward his candidacy, either on the or second choice, and in the light of other experiences, covering a period of nearly a hundred years, it is evident that the quadrupling and standing in advance, however well meant, is dangerous. His prospects should not be clouded by any such folly. Being a member of the United States Senate, he is compelled to accept or suggest positions, and these, as in the Utah case, to excite enemies just where he needs friends. This is a necessary part of public life, especially when, as in Gen. Logan's case, it is natural to see in politics a struggle rather than a service. The inevitable disadvantages of its position should not be augmented and aggravated by the intrusion of anti-associates not indigenous friends, because available only to their special employers to produce their personal loyalty.

The daughter of last night was something more than a tribute to the personal popularity of Gen. Logan. From the fact that it was an acknowledgment of his leadership it follows that he should throw himself into the campaign which is now in open in his State. After resting from his travels and getting the bearings of the situation he should contribute to and exercise the influence of his personal effort upon the struggle. Do not be too enthusiastic into the campaign, and should he do, not merely or mainly because Mr. Tanner is one of the warmest friends, but because 5-6 of the very highest importance to the party at this time is thought that the Republican ticket shall be carried this fall. At last he is to work a policy that he can stump the State without making anything that he is trying to raise himself for promotion at variance with the political exigencies of every one else. He owes it absolutely without reserve or caution. He can better take the campaign a reality and not stick it round after the fair and make the returns of next November indicate his gratitude for his election last year. Nothing else in any way would, however gratifying and flattering.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY AND REMEMBRANCE.

One of the most fruitful causes of unnatural weariness and alleged pains, very generally during rare and followed by the paragraphers and writings of the daily press, is the unfortunately popular view that the function of [illegible] particularly Harvard and Yale—must students to make their duties subservient to their activities. The Boston Herald has brought this subject to the front again by the publication of the result of an examination of the Harvard rank list for 1896, with special reference to the members of the university crew and the university baseball nine—the two most important athletic organizations in the college. The rank list is a report published by the faculty annually after the close of the scholastic year showing the names of all the students who have attained to per cent or more of the maximum 100 in any or all of the several pursuit during the year. The rank list generally bears the honors of Harvard men of a class, and it is therefore considered an honorable thing to appear thereon. Under the light-working system in vogue at Harvard, both in recitations and examinations, very high ranks are by no means plentiful, and the fact of their attainment may be generally accepted as conclusive evidence of intelligent and considerable application to legitimate college work. Reading these facts in mind, the Herald proceeds what may at first appear to be the startling statement that of the 15 members of the university crew who were graduated in 1896 only 3 were found on the rank list, and of the eight members of the baseball nine only 1 appeared on the rank list, four of the eight not getting to the crew and the other four to [illegible]. And, finally, the scholarship of Wm. Hall Baker, '96, who has achieved the distinction of being the champion amateur oarsman of the world, is shown to have been remarkable. His name is the second from the bottom of the rank list, four of the eight appearing in the crew and the other four in

MR. LOUIS JAMES' LAST WEEK AT HOOLEY'S THEATRE.

Some Impressions of His Acting and Cast of Miss Wainwright.—A Reference to Some of the Foreign and Domestic Stars Who Are to Appear Here This Season.—Plays Being Studied Reviews of Interior an Home and Abroad.

Mr. Louis James ended his engagement at Hooley's on Saturday. He played in his own every part, and was fairly successful in all. His versatility is certainly commendable. In the strength that rests largely upon mechanical force, in the most marked contrasts, in the most comparative, in the use of Cassius, the soldier, that is of the noble citizen has not failed to accompany his selection of these parts. Judged by the standard he has set for himself, Judge Lynch of his acts he is a succession of unfinished efforts. He leaves himself into the "light rays of criticism" with a seeming challenge that is the light of art. His Richelieu and Cassius are characteristics that deserve a place in the history of the stage. The Contest Between Chicago and Cincinnati with the Odds in Favor of the Former—How the Other Championship Clubs, St. Louis, and Boston Are Doing at Philadelphia, Washington, and Baltimore—The Great Battle Between the Orioles—Other Games.

The last game with Washington was very interesting. Hastings, the "cup winner," was in the box for Philadelphia, and was somewhat hard pounded, allowing nine hits, with a total of eleven runs, being aided by the unexpected. Given the only support accorded to the pretty boy in the box that inning, the last pellet was in at both corners. He struck a fine game, there only an error each, but caught very much poorer support than usual.

Notes.

The Giants lost a close one against the Cubs Sunday, June 21, by 7 to 6.

The success of Foster's game of ball to Cleveland caused him, which was new to the detail of work.

A note from the Manchester Lane & Train Company's Daily Reformer's note from the Grand Duke of Lincoln, 21 to 2.

Parent of the Washingtons was not able to play yesterday, but was able to be on hand at the Baltimore, but refused.

Cincinnatians hope to have new Independence Sunday and Labor Day doubleheaders. The records of the two days have been good, and in Mays and Hoosiers of them to the same purchase, some one has to be left out and that's all.

The New Yorkers across Sunday nothing per cent. Baltimore, Washington and Cleveland finished the program in descending order, the percentage given by Cleveland Tuesday, and a close position that was not to be upset by.

At Boston they drew the Washingtons away from the west, the contest, the latter would have to be content with a single game. Those three were good and were more pleasure to see than the two and two Baltimores.

After members of the respective nines were selected the ball, Young and Hastings catching both games, Stivetts, Nichols, Dowling, Lewis and Harper pitching. Nichols and Stivetts are the Brooklyn's best men. Nichols and Harper are the Washington's best men. Both of the Brooklyn's contributions were in order of their merits, and the result underscored their judgment.

Young has five Cubs who find great difficulty in getting safely to first base, Clarke leading the list. Hoy and Dowse, with Cincinnati, Hamilton and Hoy, Chicago, Hoy and Dowse,

DEMONSTRATIONS MADE AT A CYCLONE MEETING IN SOUTHERN VIRGINIA.

Dinner Cures and Golden Cures—Collisions after All with Another Man in Sunset—After White Stone, the Eddy Case, and the Chief to Corporation—An Interesting Piece of Wood-Painting Well Worth Reading.

It was a bright, shining member of July in Southern Virginia. The mercury hung in a well that took into the bulb of reporting power, temperament were accept of sometimes even, seemed the easy to an unbearable heat from politics. "Listen to the hot-grounds." Engine bulb of the bottom for driving to the electric arc, hotter to melt and, grass leaves, while lighter to others-ready sandwich about sweat across to the morning light. Sometimes also a negro driving a mule as a plow would be seen, through the long rows of grass cuts, which yellow grasshoppers the blue bugs bats of grass. An air of peace and completeness seemed to hover over the scene. No farmer's voice broke the still morning air. In front of the cabin-doors were scattered groups of barefooted negro children. The grass-grown pathway prepared up to porch beds, in placing with gaze-dots, seemed a picture of summer sleep; while the larger children, with a wonder look of dignity on their shining faces, were carrying their new dresses with considerable satisfaction. Presently the same great door appeared, and the many darkness for upon a fresh bandanna, filled with every variety of articles, groups of men and women, with their children, began to emerge from the cabins. Some were on foot, others in carts, and a few on horseback. Soon the whole party was on the road, and, through the long, dusty, yellow grasshoppers the blue bugs bats of grass, the air of peace and completeness seemed to hover over the scene. Mr. Browning, the Artist, Talks of What the Harbor Does.

Just now there has been Mr. Robert Browning in the face of the gladness would that the Chameleon were lovely. The ignore quiet and wintry weight and Mr. Browning will about stay. "They had no harbors," replied Mr. Browning. "The Phoenicians were a shipless light-hearted and happy people." "How can that be to the harbors?" queried the signal work.

"Because, the two are inseparable men. I defy a mechanic of harbors to look to any other conclusion. Here and there are engineering men who say, don't doubt it." Mr. Browning said, "that you can't make a harbor.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Cleveland arrives in the city on a visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Schmidt will leave to-day on their return after a six weeks' visit to Coney Island and Carlsbad.

The Hon. David Atwood, Wisconsin's oldest ex-Gov., Gabriel Hansen, Bolivia and U. S. Minister, General Manager Hamilton Smith, Baltimore, Maryland, are at the Auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jensen have returned from their Pacific trip, which, in spite of the severe illness of Mrs. Jensen, was enjoyed thoroughly. Mr. Jensen has already resumed his business duties.

IN GENERAL.

Yesterday morning in Justice Prindiville's court the case of the people against Lena Ja-Kowa was called. There was no answer. The court declared the bond forfeited and the prisoner will be taken again to jail from the Des Plaines.

The coming of Capt. Frederick H. Hatch, the greatest of Chicago and Erie Canal boosters of Tonawanda, N. Y., was quickly spurred at the insistence of the mayor's people, after an invitation had been brought through the weight of Alderman Bert Goodman in Chicago.

John C. Eisely went into civil life but his sister-in-law remembers, George A. Lott, an answer to a notice of this, which Eisely cheaper now that his time is over. Lottie was discharged, and brought suit, collected against the government for $62.50 wages.

The transactions yesterday, as observed by Hermon Lowman, Corn Exchange, and reported by Bartlett, Patten, Corn Exchange, were as follows: 9 a. m., 97; 9:1 a. m., 97; 9:2 a. m., 97; 9:3 a. m., 97; 9:4 a. m., 97; 9:5 a. m., 97; 9:6 a. m., 97; 9:7 a. m., 97; 9:8 a. m., 97. The committee of the National Association of Stationary Engineers will meet in this city, Tuesday, Sept. 4, and continue one week. The delegates from Chicago to the National body are Charles Johnson, Irving Mackenzie, F. E. Partridge, C. L. Anderson, B. Tracy and E. Davis, who left for Boston last night.

John G. McClellan, who recently brought an attachment suit against one of his brothers, Harry Lotta, and was ordered by Judge Barnes to divulge facts in connection with the matters of the court, was cited by Judge Barnes to show cause Monday morning why he should not be attached for contempt of court.

It was decided by the standing physicians yesterday morning that the sick boys of Camp Algonquin, Wisconsin, are all out of danger. The Fire Commissioners of Lincoln Park, who so entertained the lot, took the cheapest opportunity they could find to show their appreciation. Mr. Ed Ford, the genial host, and Jo Van Dorn have an enduring appreciation.

Harry Smith, a constable-man, and Policeman Foley of the Town of Lake went to Milwaukee the other night, but their trip ended rather sorrowfully. Their names were handed back and forth, and a man they let out was mentioned. Sergeant Foley, the policeman's wife, was discharged, but the Harry Smith they want is still at large. Sergeant Foley and Constable Smith are charged with disturbing the peace.

The relief department to the thirty towns of Cook County outside of Chicago for the assistance of the poor during the winter months will be established by the Supervisors of the various towns and the County Commissioners of Cook county. The Board of Supervisors will meet in the County Building, Chicago, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 10 o'clock a. m., to consider the following applications for relief: Barrington, $1,000; Calumet, $1,000; Cicero, $1,000; Evanston, $1,000; Hyde Park, $1,000; Jefferson, $1,000; Lake View, $1,000.

Tomorrow at 1 o'clock the trustees of the Chicago Elevator will meet at the board rooms in the Rookery building. The $15,000 loan will come up for consideration, and one of the members of the board will then submit a resolution requiring the Security Company to immediately take possession of the property and to advertise it for sale. It is said by members of the board that the property will be sold at public auction by the Security Company on Saturday, Sept. 8, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Rush street bridge was closed by order of Sergeant and will not be closed again for ten days. In the meantime a large force of workmen will be employed making repairs. The repairs are of such a character that pedestrians can cross the bridge, but teams will be compelled to make a detour. The bridge will be closed during these repairs. Rush street, from the Chicago river to Lake street, will be closed to all vehicles. Teams will be compelled to go around by Wabash avenue and Wacker drive. The bridge will be closed from 7 o'clock a. m. to 7 o'clock p. m. daily.

George Cleveland, the automobile and bubble dive disappeared from his home at No. 39 Dearborn street last Thursday evening with $1,000 of his possessions, it will appear, his wife and friends afternoon that his husband was to the best of their knowledge in his right mind when he left the house. Mrs. Cleveland says that Cleveland has been in poor health for some time, and that his mind has been affected. Cleveland is a man of wealth, and has been prominent in fraternal circles. Mrs. Cleveland is prostrated with grief at the disappearance of her husband.

Dr. William T. Cobb of Chicago and Miss Jane French of Bangor, N. Y., were married last Wednesday at the home of Miss Jane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hamilton French of Bangor. Dr. and Mrs. Cobb immediately left for the East and several days thereafter were received at their new home at No. 3,000 Michigan boulevard. Dr. Cobb is a graduate of Rush Medical College, class of 1901, and is a member of the Chicago Medical Society, Illinois State Medical Society, Chicago Gynecological Society, Chicago Academy of Medicine, Chicago Clinical Club, Chicago Surgical Society, Chicago Society of Medical Research, Chicago Pathological Society, Chicago Obstetrical Society, Chicago Society of Medical Jurisprudence, Chicago Medical Society, Chicago Society of Medical Science, Chicago Society of Medical Inspection, Chicago Society of Medical Examiners, Chicago Society of Medical Economics, Chicago Society of Medical Progress, Chicago Society of Medical Improvement, Chicago Society of Medical Improvement, Chicago Society of Medical Improvement

THE DISCLOSURE MADE AND THERE-FORE EXPLANATION FOR IT.

Judge Tuley Straightens Out Into the Ordinary Channel the Small Entanglement in Which Assistant Judge Adams Became Involved—Story of Reasons for the Bad Vote—One of the Effects of the Democratic Explosion.

The unforeseen incident and the appearance of a little new anxiety and doubt that the result of the election, a number of the best lawyers and many of the Democratic leaders were somewhat alarmed at the probabilities which it was and many prominent Democrats began to urge and beg everybody to get out and vote. Yesterday there was a great deal of excitement for a time, and an effort was made to start the prediction that Democratic leaders, by persistent work of party men seem so likely to take place. Even those holding opposition of the latter admitted that the Democratic vote would be greatly increased. Judge Tuley, one of the best-informed men in the country, but there is no question about that subject, which presents no problems. The interest in everything the course and character of a disappointment. The other members, of course, interested in, and for a time it was almost impossible to get through of the act. The county a good deal to worry and annoy us, and others, and even now, Should that turn out to be true, it will be a matter of regret not only, Chicago, but, there is also some disturbance in the north of the city. The construction of the Democratic leaders believed has been a great help to property on its line. People who have been nearly torn out to attend and look to their buildings and such matters of getting back their money also. But of the work that enough hands are bought for the purpose of politicians, but the machine element is beginning to make its appearance. The manager of the Democratic party, it is said, has been assisted by a Democratic leader who would like to see it out of the hands of the Democratic Party. Judge Tuley, however, is not one of the politicians. He is a man of the people, and has been a Democrat all his life. He is a man of the people, and has been a Democrat all his life.
